

New single from Demetria, the young creator who captivated audiences and critics with "Pillow Shifter" (her debut album on Puzzlemusik) in 2022.

"Poso sou moiazei" was written by Demetria and sung by Christina Teli. The song is a standalone collaboration between the two creators and a standalone release. It combines Greek references (in its melody) with European references (in its electronic instrumentation) leaving a special, as well as an original, aesthetic imprint.

It is the second time that Christina Teli collaborates with Demetria. The first time around was with the song "Gardenia" and as the two have been friends since their student years at the Music School of Thessaloniki, the possibility of a new collaboration in the future remains open.

Besides being a solo artist, Demetria also is a member of the three-piece band Listen It Speaks who debuted on Puzzlemusik with their May 2023 album "Ways To End A Letter".

A forthcoming coming album by Demetria is due for release in early 2025. The as yet untitled album will feature songs with lyrics in English.
